

Dear participants and organisers of Russian Construction Week, dear friends,

On behalf of the National Association of Home Builders and myself, I would like to welcome all of you at EXPOCENTRE Fairgrounds at Russian Construction Week!

Today, Russia faces the task of significantly increasing the volume of housing construction. Russian Construction Week and RosBuild 2020 are held to help to implement this task. The event's objective is to introduce the potential of the construction industry in regards to implementation of the Housing and Urban Environment National Project.

The exhibition showcases the latest equipment and technology for the construction industry. Companies from many regions of Russia demonstrate advanced building materials. One more goal of the week is to promote implementation of Russian and foreign R&D into the housing construction.

It is very important that events and activities of Russian Construction Week include panels for home builders. These discussion platforms will bring together representatives of the authorities and experts of the professional community to find solutions for increasing the volume and quality of housing construction.

Russian Construction Week will sum up the results of the first annual city planning competition of residential housing development, which was launched in November 2019.

I would like to wish all of you fruitful cooperation and every success in generating new contacts and searching for partners.

Leonid Kazinets
