

Dear organisers, exhibitors and visitors to RosBuild 2020!

Let me, on behalf of the Union of Timber Manufacturers and Exporters of Russia, welcome you to the RosBuild 2020 International Exhibition for Building & Finishing Materials and Technologies.

The construction industry is an important sector of the Russian economy. Its development is an important prerequisite for the growth of this country's economy. The introduction of innovative technologies into manufacture of construction materials and products is essential for the progress of the whole construction industry of Russia.

The high international standing of RosBuild is confirmed by the support and participation of foreign companies that use the show to promote their business in Russia. At the same time, RosBuild showcases competitive products of Russian manufacturers.

I am positive that RosBuild 2020 will greatly contribute to the positive development of this important industry, enable Russian and foreign participants to jointly identify long-term cooperation priorities, and coordinate their positions on the issues that need to be resolved.

I would like to congratulate the organisers, exhibitors and visitors on the opening of RosBuild 2020. Let me wish all of you every success and wellbeing!
