Russian Construction Week

A series of trade shows and congresses devoted to the construction industry

Russian Construction Week was visited by 369 developers from 72 cities

The purpose of Russian Construction Week is to integrate the potential of trade shows and congresses and the Russian construction industry to promote implementation of the Russian state programmes and national projects such as housing renovation, development of a modern urban environment, and digitalization of the construction industry.

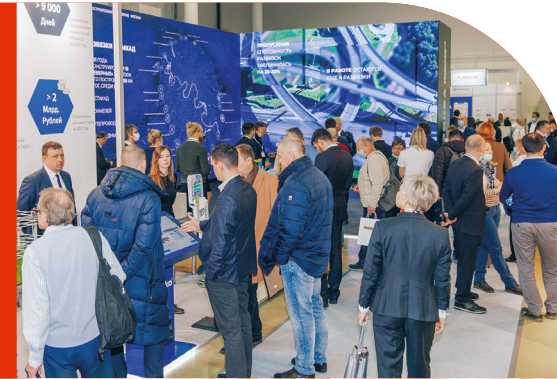

Marat Khusnullin
Vice Prime Minister of Russia

"I would like to note the relevance and importance of the dialogue on the platform of Russian Construction Week, which brought together representatives of the authorities and the construction business to discuss issues affecting the further development of the industry and, as a consequence, improving the living standards of our citizens. Right now, despite the economic situation, we are facing historically ambitious tasks to achieve strategic national goals. The construction industry must continue to create new things, despite the difficulties of the current situation."

Exhibitor feedback RosBuild 2022

Andrey Bannov
Project Head
Dom Technicol

"We have brought some Dom Technicol technologies to RosBuild 2022, which are box solutions for building a modern, high-quality, energy-efficient house of any architecture and layout. The show is not limited to stands where you can talk to each other and ask for details. There is also an excellent conference programme, in which we will also be participating on a whole range of topics."

Mark Felisola
Project Head
DoorHan

"This year, our company is presenting a unique product, which our customers don't know about yet. It is an innovative technology for quickly erecting buildings. RosBuild allows us to inform a greater number of clients that such a product has appeared. Participation in the show is an opportunity to expand the network of our clients. Today, I was able to meet with clients not only from all over Russia as people came from the Far East and Siberia, but also from Mongolia and Kazakhstan. This show offers unique opportunities."
